This second book in the acclaimed Bliss trilogy mixes the down-home heart-punch of Ingrid Law's Newbery Honor Book Savvy, the always-on-the-edge-of-chaos comedy of Cheaper by the Dozen, and a humorous magic all its own to create a thoroughly original confection to please every reader's sweet tooth! The Bliss family's magical Cookery Book is stolen by evil Aunt Lily at the end of Bliss, the first novel in the series. Now twelve-year-old Rosemary has a chance to win it back: she challenges her aunt to an Iron Chef-style international baking competition in Paris. But the only way to beat the cheating Aunt Lily is to gather magical ingredients of her own. Together with her brothers and their talking cat and mouse, Rose races across Paris—from the Eiffel Tower to the Cathedral of Notre Dame to the Mona Lisa in the Louvre Museum—to gather what she needs to out-bake—and out-magic—her conniving aunt. If Rose wins, the cherished Cookery Book will return to her family where it belongs. If she loses—well, the consequences are too ugly to think about. . . . A Simon & Schuster eBook. Simon & Schuster has a great book for every reader. Feminist science fiction that anticipates a post-patriarchal future. Our Fatal Magic is a collection of feminist science fiction by contemporary artist Tai Shani. Foregrounding explorations of sensation, experience, and interiority, these twelve fantastical prose vignettes refract their ideas through a series of curious characters, from Medieval Mystics to Cubes of Flesh, from Sirens to Neanderthal Hermaphrodites. Drawing on the speculative narrative strategies pioneered by writers like Marge Piercy, Octavia Butler and others, Our Fatal Magic metabolizes new and necessary fictions from feminist and queer theory to propose an erotic, often violent space of critique in which gender constructs are destabilized, alternative histories imagined, and post-patriarchal futures proposed. A small hill town, located in Maharashtra, India. In the late winters of January 2021, was when she came to the hills where I live. And that was it. It was MAGIC altogether. The energy she carried and the vibes that came out of her soul, was admirable. The very first time I wrote something about her was, "She is that sort of magic one would write a book on." And so here I am with this first book about her. This book consists of six categories, and each category consists of eight write-ups, where I have described her in categories like flowers, intentions, sunset, words, moon, and magic. As a reader, you will find me talking about her and narrating her with these six categories. They are written in the hills while knowing her and spending time with her as and in whatever manner I got to. Something which was born between us where we did not try for it. We never decided. Time played a beautiful role and got us together. It's like living while loving and not just spending time. It's like loving with intentions and not needs. It's that sort of love which is so easy. Like breathing. We don't try to breathe, neither we force ourselves to breathe. We all will happen to find our magic at that point in our lives where we would not expect it. And then, everything else will make sense which will show us the reality of being treated and loved rightly. I am home to her and she is my peace. Dear readers, I hope you enjoy reading this book, and I will see you in the second book. Till then, stay tuned! Love freely, and live that love daily :) This #1 New York Times bestseller is the first book in a new series set in Chris Colfer's Land of Stories universe, perfect for both new and longtime fans! "Scratching around at home on an acoustic guitar, singing into my phone with these funny little rough ideas. All of a sudden, it turns into something beautiful or complete... it's a fascinating thing. It's magic." -- Paul Weller In Magic: A Journal of Song, Paul Weller gives the first and definitive account of his illustrious songwriting career, recounting a lifetime of lyrics in Weller's most candid and intimate commentary to date. As one of the most innovative and remarkable songwriters of the last fifty years, Paul Weller has proved to be the ultimate shapeshifter, moving from the Jam's punk sensibilities to the genre-defying Style Council, and later through a remarkable 30-year solo career. Alongside Lennon and McCartney, Weller is one of few artists that has attained a UK number one album over five consecutive decades, and he's also received career defining awards from the BRITs (Lifetime Achievement Award), NME Awards (Godlike Genius Award) and a GQ Award for Songwriter of the Year. The book chronicles a lifetime worth of lyrics with impressive clarity. We follow Weller through his upbringing on Stanley Road and founding the Jam in his teenage years, creating the Style Council alongside keyboardist Mick Talbot, and later into his 16-album solo career, including stories behind iconic albums such as Stanley Road and Wild Wood, as well as his latest album, Fat Pop Vol. 1. Magic presents 130 of Weller's finest lyrics to date, accompanied by an illuminating commentary which sees him give unprecedented insight into his life and lyrics, as told to GQ editor and author, Dylan Jones OBE, in their first collaboration. "Paul Weller has proved that he is not only beyond reproach, in some senses he is quite possibly without equal." -- Dylan Jones "The thing I have discovered is that music in its truest sense is beyond any trend or movement or category." -- Paul Weller In the 1600s, Maria was abandoned in a snowy field in rural England as a baby. Their escapades run the gamut from puckish pranks and elaborate schemes worthy of the A-Team to fierce deadly combat. Firm friendships and a few subtle hostilities evolve as they explore the universe. Naturally, they also find time for fun and a bit of romance along the way.
